We opened this opportunity around May 16, 2026 after Acme's procurement team reached out about replacing their legacy platform. Things moved quickly through discovery, but the deal has been sitting in Proposal since early June with no meaningful movement. Our last real conversation with the buying team was on June 12, 2026, when we sent over the updated pricing sheet. Several follow-up emails since then have gone unanswered. Next step: schedule a pricing review call with procurement, though no date has been confirmed yet.
